

Clayton Jevne
Director – Water People

Clayton Jevne has been an active theatre practitioner since 1975. In 1987 he founded – and remains Artistic Director of – Theatre Inconnu in Victoria, Canada, where he has been directly involved in over 130 Theatre Inconnu productions as: actor, director, designer, or producer. Clayton’s solo shows have toured in six countries, including performances at: The United Solo Festival (New York City), Festival de Sinaloa (Mexico), and the Aberdeen Alternative Arts Festival (Scotland). He also founded the Victoria Shakespeare Festival in 1991, and remained its producer and Artistic Director until 2012. Clayton holds an Interdisciplinary PhD Theatre and Education degree, and has taught in the University of Victoria Theatre Department since 2010.